REMUNERATION POLICY FOR MANAGEMENT BOARD MEMBERS1. Introduction – starting points and objectives of the Remuneration Policy*To what extent does remuneration contribute to the company’s business strategy and long-term development (Article 247a, paragraph 1, item 1 of the CA)

The Company is a multinational company with eight production facilities in five countries, whose operational activities cover five continents and more than twenty countries. AD Plastik Group (hereinafter: Group) is the leading company specialising in the development and production of interior and exterior car components in Croatia and one of the leading companies in Eastern Europe. The Group’s corporate culture is based on sustainability, encouraging cooperation and recognising excellence.

This Remuneration Policy shall establish a remuneration system for members of the Management Board by defining transparent rules and procedures for determining remuneration of the Management Board members that aligns interests of the Management Board members with long-term interests as well as successful and ethical implementation of the business strategy and development of the Company and the entire Group.

2. Fixed and variable parts of remuneration and their share in total remuneration(Article 247a, paragraph 1, item 2 of the CA)

This Remuneration Policy shall establish an appropriate balance between the variable and fixed remuneration of the Management Board members required to promote transparent and efficient management.

Fixed remuneration is determined by an individual manager's contract that defines the terms of employment between a member of the Management Board and the Company, and specifies particular additional benefits for the Management Board member (hereinafter: Contract). The fixed remuneration of the Management Board members shall reflect the relevant professional experience, competence and responsibility of the Management Board members with a view to attract and retain the highest quality key personnel of the Company, all for the purpose of achieving all strategic long-term plans and objectives of the Company and the Group.

The variable remuneration shall be directly linked to the realisation of financial, non-financial, and key strategic objectives of the Company and the Group.

The Management Board members are employed by the Company and their remuneration is determined under the Contract and, to the extent applicable, the Company's internal acts.

The share of the annual fixed remuneration in the total annual remuneration of the Management Board members shall amount to at least 33% of their total annual remuneration, depending on the amount of the realised variable part of remuneration.

Remuneration of the Company Management Board members shall be divided as follows:

2.1. Fixed remuneration:

Fixed remuneration shall consist of a monthly salary set by the Contract in a fixed amount. The salary of the Management Board members should reflect their relevant professional and work experience, competences and the level of responsibility, and its amount should be sufficient to provide financial security and stability, i.e. ensure the independence of a Management Board member from the variable part of remuneration, while corresponding to the level of responsibility of a position in which key decisions of the Company are made.

The salary shall include remuneration for working outside the daily working hours and for working on Sundays and holidays.

Other benefits

In line with the best local practices, the Contract may provide for additional benefits such as:

- use of an official vehicle for business and private purposes;
- covering the cost of a life insurance policy premium or voluntary pension savings, or payment of an equivalent value in cash or Company shares, at the option of the Management Board member;
- covering the costs of renting an apartment, including utility costs, as well as travel costs for members of the Management Board whose residence is more than 100 km away from the Company's headquarters;
- covering the cost of an annual medical examination and the cost of a supplementary and/or additional health insurance premium for the purpose of promoting health protection of the Management Board members.

2.2. Variable remuneration:

Variable remuneration means the remuneration that may be paid to the Management Board members in accordance with the realised annual financial and non-financial objectives defined by the Supervisory Board of the Company, and a positive trend in the realisation of the Group's key strategic objectives. The objectives defined by the Supervisory Board of the Company must be challenging so that only outstanding results are rewarded, and must be set in such a way that the Management Board members are not tempted to take excessive risks that are not in line with the Company's strategy, and that they do not encourage unethical behaviour.

The amount of variable remuneration of the Management Board members shall be specified in the Contract, ranging from 8% to 100% of the annual gross salary earned in the year for which the variable remuneration is awarded if the variable remuneration is paid in cash, i.e. of the annual net salary if the variable remuneration is paid in Company shares (in accordance with the rules provided in Article 5, item (a) of this Policy).

For the President of the Management Board, the Contract may provide for special criteria and the variable remuneration amount of an additional 50% of the annual gross salary earned in the year for which the variable remuneration is awarded if the variable remuneration is paid in cash, i.e. of the annual net salary if the variable remuneration is paid in Company shares (in accordance with the rules provided in Article 5, item (a) of this Policy).

For the purposes of calculating the variable remuneration "annual gross salary", i.e. "annual net salary" shall mean the basic salary without other benefits defined in the Contract.

A member of the Management Board shall be entitled to opt for payment of the variable remuneration in Company shares instead of cash. If a member of the Management Board opts for payment of the variable remuneration in Company shares, such remuneration shall be determined in accordance with Article 5, item (a) of this Policy.

The Supervisory Board may also include in the Contract an additional long-term variable remuneration for all or individual members of the Management Board. The long-term variable remuneration may be agreed up to the amount of an additional 50% of the annual gross salary earned in the year for which the variable remuneration is awarded if the variable remuneration is paid in cash, i.e. 50% of the annual net salary if the variable remuneration is paid in Company shares.

3. Criteria for payment of variable remuneration

(Article 247a, paragraph 1, item 3 of the Act)

- (a) The criteria, i.e. the objectives on the realisation of which the payment and amount of the variable remuneration depend, shall be defined in more detail by the Contract, in particular taking into account the following:
- financial performance indicators of the Group defined in the Group's annual plan, such as sales revenues, EBITDA, debt, net profit and other financial indicators, whereas at least two objectives must be realised, of which one is the realised net profit above 80% of the targeted (planned) amount;

- non-financial performance indicators of the Group, such as a positive evaluation of the Group's performance by independent bodies and, where necessary, indicators associated with corporate social responsibility; and
- a positive trend in the realisation of the Group's key strategic objectives defined in the Master Strategy and/or the mid-term plan, which means that it may be justifiably concluded from the fluctuations in the Group's financial results that the key strategic objectives are being realised according to the indicators defined in the Contract, i.e. that those objectives will be, in the context of foreseeable circumstances, realised within the given period.

The criteria for payment of the variable part of remuneration shall be set in such a way that the Management Board members are motivated to achieve the Group's long-term development and to contribute through their activities to the realisation of the business strategy and long-term development of the Company and the Group.

If the Contract with a member of the Management Board provides for the right of the Management Board member to receive long-term variable remuneration, the Contract should also define the additional long-term objectives or objectives associated with the successful realisation of specific projects for which the Management Board member is entitled to receive long-term variable remuneration.

(b) Methods to determine whether the criteria are fulfilled

Depending on whether they fulfilled the criteria for payment of the variable part of remuneration, the Management Board members shall realise the right to payment of the variable remuneration for the previous financial year when the Supervisory Board adopts the Group's integrated annual report for the previous year.

In line with internal rules and upon proposal of the Remuneration Committee, the Supervisory Board of the Company shall adopt a decision on fulfilment of the conditions for payment of the variable remuneration at the session in which it decides on the Company's integrated annual report. When evaluating the criteria, the Supervisory Board should take into account the degree and scope of realisation of the set objectives, all in accordance with the Contracts and this Remuneration Policy.

4. Restrictions and refund of the variable part of remuneration

(Article 247a, paragraph 1, item 4 of the CA)

The Company shall not be entitled to claim a refund of the variable part of remuneration from the Management Board members.

5. Payment of variable remuneration in shares

(Article 247a, paragraph 1, item 5 of the CA)

- (a) Variable remuneration shall be paid in cash or Company shares, at the option of the Management Board member.

If the Management Board member opts for payment of the variable remuneration in Company shares, the number of shares to be awarded shall be determined on the basis of the ratio between the net amount of the variable remuneration paid in shares and the average share price in the month preceding the month in which the decision was adopted.

The payment of the bonus in shares shall be regulated in more detail and realised by concluding a separate share transfer agreement between the Company and the Management Board member, and the shares shall be acquired immediately after the conclusion of the said agreement.

- (b) After the acquisition of such shares, the Management Board member may not dispose of them for at least two years from the day they were awarded to him/her, unless his/her membership in the Management Board expires within the listed period of two years. In that case, after the end of his/her term of office, the ex-member of the Management Board may freely dispose of the awarded shares.
- (c) The payment of the variable remuneration in Company shares contributes to the realisation of the Company's objectives by giving the Management Board members an additional personal interest for sustainable and development operations of the Company, as well as additionally motivating the Management Board members to achieve the objectives of annual and mid-term plans of the entire Group.

6. Manager's contract

(Article 247a, paragraph 1, item 6 of the CA)

(a) Duration and termination of the Contract

The Contract shall be concluded for the duration of the term of office of an individual member of the Management Board.

Before the expiry of the period of his/her appointment, the term of office of the Management Board member may be terminated at his/her own request or based on the decision of the Supervisory Board in accordance with the provisions of the CA. The termination notice period shall be defined by the Contract.

(b) Severance pay

The right to severance pay, its amount and conditions for payment shall be exercised by the Management Board members pursuant to the Contract.

(c) Voluntary pension and health insurance; purchase of qualifying periods

The Company may include in the Contract its obligation to pay voluntary retirement insurance for the Management Board member in the case that the Management Board member decides to use this right instead of a life insurance policy.

If, after the Contract has expired, the Management Board member goes into early retirement, the Company shall neither pay voluntary health insurance nor shall be obliged to purchase qualifying periods for the Management Board member.

7. Taking into account remuneration and working conditions of employees

(Article 247a, paragraph 1, item 7 of the CA)

When determining remuneration of the Management Board members, the terms of remuneration and working conditions of senior management in the Company at the level of sector directors, operating units, executive directors and directors of subsidiaries operating within the Group were taken into account, as well as of other companies on the labour market comparable in terms of their size, business activity, geographical scope of operations and/or complexity.

8. Adoption of the Remuneration Policy and conflict of interest

(Article 247a, paragraph 1, items 8 and 9 of the Act)

The Remuneration Committee shall propose the Remuneration Policy to the Supervisory Board, which shall provide other proposals in line with internal rules. All members of the Supervisory Board shall participate in adopting the Remuneration Policy for Management Board Members based on a proposal by the Remuneration Committee.

The Supervisory Board shall submit the adopted Remuneration Policy to the General Assembly of the Company for approval.

Pursuant to Article 276 of the CA, if the General Assembly fails to approve the Remuneration Policy, the Supervisory Board shall submit its revised Remuneration Policy at the first next session of the General Assembly, where it will be voted on.

For the purpose of avoiding conflicts of interest, the Contracts shall contain provisions on non-competition during and after employment in the Company, as well as provisions on the obligation of non-disclosure of trade secrets. The Management Board members shall be bound by enforceable legal regulations on the prevention of conflict of interest and internal acts.

9. Authority of the Supervisory Board to temporarily deviate from the Remuneration Policy

(Article 247a, paragraph 2 of the CA)

The Supervisory Board may temporarily deviate from the Remuneration Policy, if this is necessary for the long-term benefit of the Company and based on a special and reasoned decision of the Supervisory Board.

10. Final provisions

This Remuneration Policy shall apply for the period of 4 (four) years and it shall enter into force upon approval by the General Assembly of the Company.

The Decision of the General Assembly and the Remuneration Policy shall be published immediately after the General Assembly is held and made available on the Company's website for a period of ten years."
